The Giants took five hits off Mays but none of them were dangerous.

fans looked for slugging matches rather than pitched battles.

In the present series the pitchers are usually working far above the season's form. In the present struggle the customers are confident the batting will be mightier than the curve.

Should the fans dope prove true, indications appear to favor the Yanks. The Giants are some swatters themselves however. Their team averages 299 compared with the Yanks 300. And Manager McGraw will put in the field an average higher than Manager Huggins will produce.

Then the big problem in the fans' mind was "what will Babe do?"

Most of the freak betting centers about Ruth's ability to maintain his home run hits at the expense of the Giants' pitcher. He has appeared in two previous world series games. In 1916 he pitched for the Boston Red Sox against Brooklyn and compiled a batting average of exactly nothing. In 1918 he again played for Boston. He raised his mark to .200 against the Cubs. Fans Storm Grounds for Good Seats Polo Grounds, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Thousands of rabid Gotham fans and hundreds from out of town stormed the Polo Grounds early today for the world series.

At 8 o'clock there were 4,500 in line at the entrance and every elevated, subway, railroad train and taxicab in this part of New York brought others to swell the ranks.

About 500 had been waiting all night in the rain and cold. They had their reward this morning. But those who slept at home arrived to find long lines between them and the choicest bleacher seats.

The first man in line, that annually important figure who has become famous in baseball circles, was Charles M. Kierst, a fireman of Auburn, N. Y. Charles, who is used to hard experiences such as staying out all night, was a baseball fan "ever since I was knee high," sat up against the fence ever since 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Rumors are that the bootleggers did a big business up around the Polo grounds last night.

When 500 baseball fans lined up in the cold and rain with nothing to do but wait for morning it was only natural that some of our unacknowledged trades people should hike out this way with their wares.

GET RICH QUICK SCHEMES REVEALED BY NEBRASKA JURY—
WHOLESALE ARRESTS MADE

Omaha, Oct. 5.—Ninety-seven men, including stock salesmen, bankers, attorneys and other business and professional men, have been indicted by the special Douglas county grand jury, which for the last month has been investigating various "get rich quick" schemes by which Nebraska people in the last three years were induced to purchase approximately $250,000,000 of stocks and bonds, most of which were worthless.

Wholesale arrests were being made of those indicted during the investigation. Warrants for the arrest of 97 named in true bills voted by the grand jury were in the hands of Sheriff Michael Clark and his deputies. The names of those indicted are being kept secret until they are arrested. A number of those indicted are said to have left the state. Several are in Mexico and two are reported as being in Canada.

The investigation included oil companies, automobile tire concerns, packing houses, bonding companies, building companies, potash companies, phonograph manufacturers, chemical manufacturers and various other stock selling concerns.

Attorney General Clarence A. Davis, who has been in charge of the investigation, has announced that he will personally have charge of the prosecution, which will begin immediately. Federal investigation into the same concerns is to be made by the federal grand jury next week.

NOVEL MANNER OF
GATHERING EVIDENCE
IN MURDER TRIAL

(By United Press)
Greeley, Colo., Oct. 5.—A calf will be sacrificed here in order to settle a point which may save Rienz Dickens from the gallows. Dickens on trial for the murder of his father, a wealthy Longmont banker, is charged by the state's attorney with shooting his father through a window of the latter's home with a 25-30 caliber rifle. The defense asserts the elder man was killed by a small caliber rifle. Rienze Dickens owns a 25-30 rifle.
To settle the point a calf will be shot with a high powered rifle and the wound compared with that found in the dead banker's body.

A. J. Frey, vice-president of the Emergency Fleet corporation, in charge of operations and the laid up fleet, said the withdrawals were a continuation of the retrenchment policy adopted recently by the board.

At the present time, there are 520 steel ships in actual service and 25 are undergoing repairs, Mr. Frey said. These vessels are exclusive of the 1,019 ships tied up or about to be withdrawn.

NORTHWEST NEWS

M. E. Conference at Valley City
Valley City, N. D., Oct. 5.—After fifteen years, Valley City is host again to the North Dakota Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Although the delegation arriving today is greatly increased in numbers. It cannot, pioneers say, be more enthusiastic than the smaller convention of 1906.

The conference, 1920 records show, is seven times larger in membership than it was when first founded in 1884. There were 14,469 members last year. Bishop Charles Wesley Burns, Helena, Mont., will preside. Among the duties of the conference will be the assigning of pastors to the various congregations for the coming year.

Speakers will include Rev. Edward S. Ninde, D. D., Philadelphia; President J. R. Harker of the Illinois Women's College, Jacksonville, Ill.; Dr. N. E. Davis, Chicago, and Miss Dora Gladden, a Mexican missionary.

It is not known whether Bishop Burns will speak literally or figuratively Thursday night when he talks on "Seeing Through John Wesley's Spectacles." It is said he is qualified to do both, having recently come into possession of a pair of glasses belonging to the founder of Methodism, and also admittedly looking on religion with the eyes of John Wesley.

Woman's Club Federation Convention
Owatonna, Minn., Oct. 5.—It takes more than just women to make the annual convention program of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs a success.

Men of prominence are to take part in the educational section of the program. Dr. Lotus D. Coffman of the University of Minnesota, Congressman Sidney Anderson and Dr. C. A. Prosser of Dunwoody Institute are among the men scheduled to participate.

International relations, immigration and disarmament figure largely in the subjects for discussion during the three day program. That is the chief reason why men are on the program.

But the men will not hold the limelight in the discussion of great national problems. Miss Keith Clark of St. Paul, a widely known writer and educator; Mrs. Rose Berry, Berkeley, Cal.; Mrs. Manley L. Fosseen, Minneapolis, and others will take up the cudgel on disarmament, peace treaties and other paramount problems.

Mrs. George J. Allen, Rochester, presiding, had a hard job today. A "new idea" of the program committee was to allow time for ample discussion on the floor of all subjects on the program. Every member was to be given an opportunity to express her opinion.

Greeley, Colo., Oct. 5.—A calf will be sacrificed here in order to settle a point which may save Rienz Dickens from the gallows. Dickens on trial for the murder of his father, a wealthy Longmont banker, is charged by the state's attorney with shooting his father through a window of the latter's home with a 25-30 caliber rifle.
The defense asserts the elder man was killed by a small caliber rifle. Rienze Dickens owns a 25-30 rifle.To settle the point a calf will be shot with a high powered rifle and the wound compared with that found in the dead banker's body.More Than 1,000 Ship ships. A. J. Frey, vicepresident of the Emergency Fleet corporation, in charge of operations and the laid up fleet, said the withdrawals were a continuation of the retrenchment policy adopted recently by the board.At the present time, there are 520 steel ships in actual service and 25 are undergoing repairs. Mr. Frey said.

These vessels are exclusive of the

M. E. Conference at Valley City
Valley City, N. D., Oct. 5.—After fifteen years, Valley City is host again to the North Dakota Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church.Although the delegation arriving today is greatly increased in numbers, it cannot, pioneers say, be more enthusiastic than the smaller convention of 1906.The conference, 1920 records show, is seven times larger in membership
than it was when first founded in 1884.
There were 14,469 members last year.Bishop Charles Wesley Burns, Helena, Mont., will preside. Among the duties of the conference will be the assigning of pastors to the various congregations for the coming year.Speakers will include Rev. Edward S. Ninde, D. D., Philadelphia; President J. R. Harker of the Illinois Women's College, Jacksonville, Ill.; Dr.
N. E. Davis, Chicago, and Miss Dora
Gladden, a Mexican missionary.It is not known whether Bishop Burns will speak literally or figuratively Thursday night when he talks on "Seeing Through John Wesley's Spectacles." It is said he is qualified to do both, having recently come into possession of a pair of glasses belonging to the founder of Methodism, and also admittedly looking on religion with the eyes of John Wesley.

Woman's Club Federation Convention

Owatonna, Minn., Oct. 5.—It takes more than just women to make the annual convention program of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs
a success.Men of prominence are to take part in the educational section of the program. Dr. Lotus D. Coffman of the University of Minnesota, Congressman
Sidney Anderson and Dr. C. A. Prosser of Dunwoody Institute are among the men scheduled to participate.International relations, immigration and disarmament figure largely in the subjects for discussion during the three day program. That is the chief reason why men are on the program.But the men will not hold the limelight in the discussion of great national problems. Miss Keith Clark of St. Paul, a widely known writer and educator; Mrs. Rose Berry, Berkeley, Cal.; Mrs. Manley L. Fossee, Minneapolis, and others will take up the cudgel on disarmament, peace treaties and other paramount problems.Mrs. George J. Allen, Rochester, presiding, had a hard job today. A "new idea" of the program committee was to allow time for ample discussion on the floor of all subjects on the program. Every member was to be given an opportunity to express her

to have the regular meeting held. For some time it has been difficult to gain a quorum, but with the return of fall it is expected to have the elusive quorum rounded up.

The committee in charge of the skating rink project have met with splendid success in the sale of the medal "Brainerd" pennants for automobiles. The following merchants have them for sale and as soon as the committee can arrange to see other dealers they will be on sale in practically every store in the city: Alderman-Maghan Co.; Ed Levant, Jr.; Wright and Son, Brainerd Co-operative Store, B. LEAGUE WOMEN VOTERS MEETING

A meeting of the League of Women Voters was held at the Y. M. C. A. on Friday afternoon.

Pres. Cobb presided and after general routine of business was disposed of plans for cooperating with the Chamber of Commerce in putting on a pageant for Armistice Day were discussed and a committee consisting of Mesdames Clarence Smiley, C. L. Burnett and J. P. Early was appointed to confer with the other committees.

The state constitution of League of Women Voters is to be held in Minneapolis Oct. 18-20 and the following names were suggested as delegates to this convention, Mesdames E. O. Webb, E. J. Quinn, Woelfert, Weber, Herbert, Gyllenhammar and Early. The headline attraction will be the mass meeting speaker, Will Irwin, America's leading war correspondent and author of the book "The Next War" which has stirred the whole nation to realize the menace to civilization which lies in the possibility of future war. Every woman in the state will want to hear this address.

GIVES AUTO LAW WARNING

Attorney General Hilton Rules on the Duties of Officials—Offenders Face Prosecution

In furtherance of the campaign for rigid enforcement of the motor vehicle tax law throughout the state, Attorney General Clifford L. Hilton this week gave a ruling to the effect that willful neglect to enforce the law is ground for removal proceedings against offending officials as well as prosecution of those who violate the law. His statement added an appeal for public support for the enforcement campaign.

Reports of numerous violations of the auto tax laws are reaching the capitol and those from two small cities listed more than 100 alleged violations.

Announcing that drastic action will be taken where necessary, Miss Holm, secretary of state, began prompt investigations of the reports. He said that reports of specific violations sent to his office will be treated with confidence and receive prompt attention.

"In justice to more than 300,000 Minnesota car owners who have paid the proper motor vehicle taxes, and to encourage respect for the law," said General Hilton, "all good citizens will assist local officials by calling their attention to violations. Efforts to collect the taxes should be given popular support. I am informed that several hundred thousand dollars will be added to the state highway fund when delinquent license fees are paid. Every citizen in the state is interested in highway development and by proper vigilance on part of the public at large and of all local officials the end desired will be attained."

A Few "Don'ts" Which Should be Remembered

Don't allow snow or ice to remain on fire escapes.

Don't allow smoke doors, which close off the corridors from the stairs, to remain open. They should be kept closed.

Don't leave furnace or heater room door open.

Don't allow waste paper, ashes, or rubbish to accumulate unnecessarily in the basement.

Don't allow shavings to accumulate in manual training rooms. They should be cleaned up and removed every night.

Don't thaw out frozen water pipes with a torch or flame of any kind. Use cloths or rags saturated with hot water.

Don't hook or lock doors leading to fire escapes.

Don't lock exit doors while school is in session.

Don't store floor oils, paints, varnish, raffia, or other inflammable materials in closets under stairs. There should be a proper place provided outside the building for such materials.

Don't allow ventilating fans to run in case of fire or fire drill.

Don't use halls or corridors as temporary storage space for boxes or other material.

Don't take any chances with the lives and safety of children. It is far better to be overcautious than not cautious enough.—C. N. Kendall, Commissioner of Education for New Jersey, 1920.

ANOTHER BRAINERD CASE

It Proves That There's a Way Out for Many Suffering Brainerd Folks

Just another report of a case in Brainerd. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Brainerd with Doan's Kidney Pills.

Hans Anderson, 502 Norwood St., says: "I caught a cold while at work and my back started aching. I noticed it first when I stooped to shovel some coal. I got such a sharp catch in my back I thought I had been hit. From then on I had a steady ache and pains in my back and I felt sore and stiff in the morning. My kidneys acted unnaturally and between all these symptoms I was feeling pretty badly. I tried easily and was usually all in before the day was over. I got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills at Dunn's Drug Store and after using them a short time I was rid of the pains and the kidney disorder."

Woman in Civic Affairs.

There is promise of better things for Connecticut in the fact that the League of Women Voters of that state has sent out a questionnaire befitting the slogan, "Know Your Own Town." This should be well worth doing for the information to be obtained, intended for the local communities, and as a basis of future state legislation. But no doubt the most important factor in the activity is, as the workers seem to think, the awakening among women of an interest in civic affairs. The neighborhood is certain to hold interest for anyone, and so is a good starting point.—Christian Science Monitor.

Seattle Saves Money.

Seattle, Wash., is saving its citizens approximately $1,000,000 a year by reason of the lower rates it enjoys for electricity through its municipal plant. The retail rate is 6 cents per kilowatt hour, whereas the rate under private ownership was 8½ cents.

AN APPRECIATION

To one who has viewed many of the current moving picture plays which seem to be more concerned with the posing of some "star" of greater or less magnitude than the actual plot or theme, it is refreshing to have the pleasure of viewing a production like "Earth Bound," shown at the Park theatre the past two nights.

First of all, those who act in this play do not pose or try to intrude their personality; but act for arts sake and they succeed admirably.

Then the theme itself is wonderful and reflects the author's skill in handling his subject and his ability as a thinker.

The present day motion picture exerts a great influence on the lives, actions and thoughts of the public at large and therefore carries with it a great responsibility, it can work for good or evil, it can instruct as well as entertain, and most of all it can make one think; and "Earth Bound" is the type of play—which makes one think, the sort of a play that one remembers a long time and the influence it radiates is for good.

Let us hope to see more plays of this kind which have a real theme, well written, well acted and carrying with it a message of truth.

R. B. HAMILTON.

Writer Waxes Sarcastic.

The trustees of the city of Roseville, Calif., have clearly no eye for art. At first, it may seem as if they were justified in refusing permission to a certain advertising firm to erect billboards within the city limits. But then these were no ordinary billboards—at least, so the advertising firm declared. They were in fact, "beautiful panels, real works of art." Yet the city trustees refused. Worse and worse, the women of Placer county, in which Roseville is situated, have banded themselves together to prevent the erection of any more billboards in Placer county, whether in the form of "beautiful panels" or otherwise. It seems strange, but then some people are notoriously blind to their privileges.—Christian Science Monitor.

L. Burnett and J. P. Early was appointed to confer with the other committees.

The state constitution of League of Women Voters is to be held in Minneapolis Oct. 18-20 and the following names were suggested as delegates to this convention, Mesdames E. O. Webb, E. J. Quinn, Woelfert, Weber, Herbert, Gyllenhammar and Early. The headline attraction will be the mass meeting speaker, Will Irwin, America's leading war correspondent and author of the book "The Next War" which has stirred the whole nation to realize the menace to civilization which lies in the possibility of future war. Every woman in the state will want to hear this address.

GIVES AUTO LAW WARNING

Attorney General Hilton Rules on the Duties of Officials—Offenders Face Prosecution

In furtherance of the campaign for rigid enforcement of the motor vehicle tax law throughout the state, Attorney General Clifford L. Hilton this week gave a ruling to the effect that willful neglect to enforce the law is ground for removal proceedings against offending officials as well as prosecution of those who violate the law. His statement added an appeal for public support for the enforcement campaign.

Reports of numerous violations of the auto tax laws are reaching the capitol and those from two small cities listed more than 100 alleged violations.

Announcing that drastic action will be taken where necessary, Miss Holm, secretary of state, began prompt investigations of the reports. He said that reports of specific violations sent to his office will be treated with confidence and receive prompt attention.

"In justice to more than 300,000 Minnesota car owners who have paid the proper motor vehicle taxes, and to encourage respect for the law," said General Hilton, "all good citizens will assist local officials by calling their attention to violations. Efforts to collect the taxes should be given popular support. I am informed that several hundred thousand dollars will be added to the state highway fund when delinquent license fees are paid. Every citizen in the state is interested in highway development and by proper vigilance on part of the public at large and of all local officials the end desired will be attained."

A Few "Don'ts" Which Should be Remembered

Don't allow snow or ice to remain on fire escapes.

Don't allow smoke doors, which close off the corridors from the stairs, to remain open. They should be kept closed.

Don't leave furnace or heater room door open.

Don't allow waste paper, ashes, or rubbish to accumulate unnecessarily in the basement.

Don't allow shavings to accumulate in manual training rooms. They should be cleaned up and removed every night.

Don't thaw out frozen water pipes with a torch or flame of any kind. Use cloths or rags saturated with hot water.

Don't hook or lock doors leading to fire escapes.

Don't lock exit doors while school is in session.

Don't store floor oils, paints, varnish, raffia, or other inflammable materials in closets under stairs. There should be a proper place provided outside the building for such materials.

Don't allow ventilating fans to run in case of fire or fire drill.

Don't use halls or corridors as temporary storage space for boxes or other material.

Don't take any chances with the lives and safety of children. It is far better to be overcautious than not cautious enough.—C. N. Kendall, Commissioner of Education for New Jersey, 1920.

ANOTHER BRAINERD CASE

It Proves That There's a Way Out for Many Suffering Brainerd Folks

Just another report of a case in Brainerd. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Brainerd with Doan's Kidney Pills.

Hans Anderson, 502 Norwood St., says: "I caught a cold while at work and my back started aching. I noticed it first when I stooped to shovel some coal. I got such a sharp catch in my back I thought I had been hit. From then on I had a steady ache and pains in my back and I felt sore and stiff in the morning. My kidneys acted unnaturally and between all these symptoms I was feeling pretty badly. I tired easily and was usually all in before the day was over. I got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills at Dunn's Drug Store and after using them a short time I was rid of the pains and the kidney disorder."

Woman in Civic Affairs.

There is promise of better things for Connecticut in the fact that the League of Women Voters of that state has sent out a questionnaire befitting the slogan, "Know Your Own Town." This should be well worth doing for the information to be obtained, intended for the local communities, and as a basis of future state legislation. But no doubt the most important factor in the activity is, as the workers seem to think, the awakening among women of an interest in civic affairs. The neighborhood is certain to hold interest for anyone, and so is a good starting point.—Christian Science Monitor.

Seattle Saves Money.

Seattle, Wash., is saving its citizens approximately $1,000,000 a year by reason of the lower rates it enjoys for electricity through its municipal plant. The retail rate is 6 cents per kilowatt hour, whereas the rate under private ownership was 8½ cents.

AN APPRECIATION

To one who has viewed many of the current moving picture plays which seem to be more concerned with the posing of some "star" of greater or less magnitude than the actual plot or theme, it is refreshing to have the pleasure of viewing a production like "Earth Bound," shown at the Park theatre the past two nights.

First of all, those who act in this play do not pose or try to intrude their personality; but act for arts sake and they succeed admirably.

Then the theme itself is wonderful and reflects the author's skill in handling his subject and his ability as a thinker.

The present day motion picture exerts a great influence on the lives, actions and thoughts of the public at large and therefore carries with it a great responsibility, it can work for good or evil, it can instruct as well as entertain, and most of all it can make one think; and "Earth Bound" is the type of play which makes one think, the sort of a play that one remembers a long time and the influence it radiates is for good.

Let us hope to see more plays of this kind which have a real theme, well written, well acted and carrying with it a message of truth.

R. B. HAMILTON.

Writer Waxes Sarcastic.

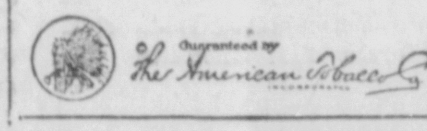

The trustees of the city of Roseville, Calif., have clearly no eye for art. At first, it may seem as if they were justified in refusing permission to a certain advertising firm to erect billboards within the city limits. But then these were no ordinary billboards—at least, so the advertising firm declared. They were in fact, "beautiful panels, real works of art." Yet the city trustees refused. Worse and worse, the women of Placer county, in which Roseville is situated, have banded themselves together to prevent the erection of any more billboards in Placer county, whether in the form of "beautiful panels" or otherwise. It seems strange, but then some people are notoriously blind to their privileges.—Christian Science Monitor.

CHILD WELFARE REPORT FOR SEPT.

(Contributed)

The month of September opened with preparations for the exhibit which the Child Welfare Board was asked to enter at the county fair. Under the auspices of the board the display of work done in the special classes for the mentally defective was exhibited. It is remarkable what the mentally backward children are able to do with their hands, and it is hoped that soon more such classes may be established in the county.

The Brainerd Camp Fire Girls prepared a graphic picture of Camp Fire and what it means, its laws, symbols and pleasures. An organization of this nature is a force for good in a community and a truly constructive agent.

And then came the Free Traveling Library which the State Department of Education will furnish to any community without any library facilities. It was hoped to encourage the communities to use this opportunity to establish the library habit.

There were posters explaining the boarding homes and also the question of foster homes, the requirements and necessary preliminaries. And besides these were pictures telling the heart rendering stories of poverty, delinquency and dependency of which Crow Wing county has its share.

At the request of the State Department of Education, re-education division, an exhibit was shown illustrating the assistance being given disabled men other than soldiers. This training is provided by the state free of charge and is open to any man in the state.

The usual number of calls were made, letters written and a variety of cases handled. During the course of the month two commitments were made to the State Board of Control through the probate court and two prospective boarding homes were found.

The annual state conference was held at Hibbing and one member of the Child Welfare Board, Mrs. Knights, wife of Dr. Knights, of Pequot, attended. The conference this year was generally conceded to be the most instructive that has been held thus far.

Several free traveling libraries have been placed in the county and a number of other communities are interested. The libraries are either fifty or twenty-five volumes and may be of a miscellaneous selection or upon some special subject.

Source of Diamonds. While some diamonds are obtained from river sands, most of them are obtained by mining. The diamonds occur largely in a soft volcanic rock known as "blue ground." This rock is taken from the mines spread out in the open air and allowed to decompose; it is afterward washed and separated.

RAILROAD CREDIT BILL

It is said that President Harding is anxious to expedite the passage of the railroad credit bill under which the War Finance Corporation would sell certain railway bonds for the government and apply $500,000,000 of the proceeds to a settlement of the claims of the carriers against the government. The bill is meeting with opposition in the Senate, however, though these are factors favorable to its passage. Since the conference on unemployment opened the belief is growing that if the railroads were paid in cash the sums the government owes them, it would have a great effect in reducing unemployment by causing the roads to order cars, rails and other supplies, thus giving employment to men in the steel mills and in other lines of industry.

Undoubtedly, this belief that the passage of the railroad credit bill obviously would cause the wheels of industry to revive in many directions will have weight in the Senate when the bill is taken up. Senator Cummins states, that it is his intention to get the bill up as soon as the treaties, the tax bill and the beer bill conference reports are out of the way. He hopes to be able to announce plans in a short time for resumption of the railway hearings, which it is expected, will bring out interesting information in connection with the threatened railway strike.

ADMINISTRATION SAVINGS

Under the new Budget bureau system, the economy program of the Harding administration is already bringing tangible results. In direct contradiction of claims of Democratic politicians that the reported savings of this administration are on paper, the books of the Treasury department show the operating expenses of the government for August were $30,000,000 less than during July, despite an increase of $7,000,000 in payment of public debt and one of $30,000,000 in payment to railroads under the government guarantee.

Some of the largest items of reductions in July and August, of even "more interest, are: War Department, $6,595,286; Treasury Department, $7,760,310; Department of Commerce, $4,137,162. Secretary Hughes operated the State Department during these two months for $318,350 less than his predecessor in corresponding months last year. The Department of Justice made a saving of $120,340. It cost $91,803 less to run the White House executive offices in July and August than under Wilson in July and August last year.

Administration circles hold that this is but the beginning of radical permanent reductions of operating expenses in all government departments. After the orgy of spending by the Wilson administration this is very interesting to the taxpayers of the country.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY

State Governors were requested by President Harding, in a proclamation, to designate October 10, anniversary of the disastrous Chicago fire, as fire prevention day. Gov. Preus, in his proclamation, urges pastors of churches throughout the state to deliver sermons on fire prevention next Sunday. "In schools, factories, and other places where people congregate," says the proclamation, "fire prevention day may be observed on the following days and steps should be taken to bring home to the public the responsibility of each individual in helping to prevent fires."

In preparation for the approaching conference to discuss the limitation of armaments, the State Department has created what is known as a "conference division," which includes chiefs of existing bureaus and specialists on subjects likely to be discussed at the conference. The division is gathering and preparing data that may be needed by the American delegation.

Japan, it is now understood, will not introduce the question of racial equality into the conference on limitation of armaments. This decision was reached, it is explained, because the United States had intimated it would approve the Morrison-Shidehara immigration agreement negotiated several months ago.

Marshal Foch, who will sail for the United States on Oct. 22, has gone into training for the trip at his country home near Brest, France. He will stay there several weeks getting in condition to meet the rigors of a series of banquets that will be given in his honor while visiting here.

The Boston Transcripts notes that "There is a prevailing impression that business men can continue to have bad times as long as they keep on howling about them."

Softest Known Wood.
Trees belonging to the genus Jacaranda, growing in tropical America, are remarkable for their soft wood. After part of the bark is cut away a machete can be shoved to the center of the trunk with ease. The wood, when fresh, can be cut into blocks with a knife, as one would cut up parsnips or turnips. As the wood dries, it shrinks to a small fraction of its original bulk.

ABOLITION OF ALL TAG DAYS SOUGHT

What applies to Minneapolis as given in the item below, taken from the Minneapolis Journal, also applies to Little Falls in the opinion of many citizens, says the Little Falls Daily Transcript.

Action by city officials to abolish tag days as a means of raising money for charitable or other purposes is recommended by the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce association in a report made by the association's committee on public solicitations, after an investigation, and adopted by the organization's board of directors. Points made against the tag day custom in the report include:

It is "an attempt to shame the people into giving by making them uncomfortable in the presence of others who are wearing tags."

Frequent tag days yield meager results for worthy causes and often result in persons "being requested to give to enterprises about which they know nothing."

City streets are public places and "the city's people are entitled to go about on them unmolested by solicitors."

"The young and attractive girls used in tag day campaigns are subject to liberties taken by some men while the tags are being pinned on."

"We feel it desirable that the practice of holding tag days in Minneapolis, except for memorial purposes, be discontinued," the report says. "When used for memorial purposes, we believe the tag day should be divorced from the idea of raising money."

The report recommends that the association directors take the matter up with the proper city officials for action.

Inverness, Scotland, Oct. 5.—Prime Minister Lloyd George, speaking here concerning unemployment, touched on the Irish question, declaring the London conference beginning Oct. 11 between representatives of the British government and the Sinn Fein, "can only succeed if those who enter it make up their minds definitely and resolutely to trust to the common sense of their own people and do not try to reconcile the extremists." The premier deviated from his speech to

AGRARIAN BLOC IN THE SENATE

NON-PARTISAN GROUP IN UPPER HOUSE IS HELPING RESTORE PROSPERITY TO FARMERS.

KENYON IS THEIR CHAIRMAN

Senator From Iowa Tells How Agricultural Interests, Hardest Hit by the War, Are in Great Need of Legislative Aid.

By EDWARD B. CLARK. Washington.—The American farmer is having his day in the legislative halls of the National capitol. Never before has the voice of the agriculturist been so potent when it comes to lawmaking. Why?

Because a group of senators, without regard to party affiliations, who hail from agricultural states banded themselves together at the outset of the new congress for the purpose of "aiding the farmer." The farmer had been harder hit by the after-war readjustment of prices than any other group or class in the country.

This group got together—each senator intent upon doing the best for the farming element—and determined, first, upon an organization or coalition, and, second, upon a program of farm legislation. William Squire Kenyon of Iowa was chosen chairman of the meetings of the agricultural group.

Senator Kenyon is one of the most modest men in congress. He invariably endeavors to put the soft pedal upon any publicity about himself, and when a correspondent went to him in search of an interview regarding the now famous "agrarian bloc" of the senate, the first injunction laid upon him by Senator Kenyon was that he should not be set down as the "head" of the organization.

Bloc Without a Head. "A number of the senators, intent upon aiding the farmer, have organized this 'bloc' as it has come to be called," said Senator Kenyon. "We all of us have the interests of the agricultural class at heart—none more so than any one of the others."

"I noticed that one of the newspapers recently asked, 'Who is this agricultural blochead?'" said the senator, with a twinkle in his eye. "As a matter of fact, the bloc has no head." Long before the organization of the present bloc in the senate, Senator Kenyon was engaged actively in legislative work to help the farmers. He comes from one of the great farming states of the country, and one of his great pleasures is to get back home to the "farmers' plenties" where he can talk to the people and get their angle. He is a farm owner himself, though he says distinctly that he does not wish to pose as a farmer. He is a lawyer. But he lived on a farm when he was a boy, and worked on a farm.

"I remember that when I was fifteen years old I ran away from school to go to work on a farm," said Senator Kenyon. "The reason I ran away was that every Friday all the pupils were called on to recite poems, etc. I couldn't stand it. But I made up my mind that I would get over that feeling of nervousness when I addressed an audience, and later I returned to school, went through academy and then college. I joined all the debating societies I could just to force myself to learn to speak in public, for my earliest ambition was to become a lawyer. I determined that when I was thirteen years old."

Senator Kenyon's Career. The Iowa senator is big, clean cut, hair gray, though abundant. He is fifty-two years old, but doesn't look it. He has been in the senate ten years, taking the seat of the late Senator Dolliver. Before he came to the senate he was an assistant attorney general under the Taft administration, having charge of the "trust busting" work of the department. Before that he was a district judge and a prosecuting attorney and a successful lawyer in his own state. He overcame his awe of speaking in public, but admits that up until a few years ago, he used to have qualms before beginning an address. He speaks forcefully and clearly, and comparatively rarely in the senate.

"What was the need of the farmer bloc?"

"That's a fair enough question," replied Senator Kenyon. "The farmers of the country were in desperate condition—they still are. They had suffered more acutely than any other body, due to the deflation after the war. They are the backbone of the country. They produce the food which the whole country must have. It was imperative that something be done for them."

"At first there was an inclination in some quarters to treat the farmer group lightly. But senators from the East now realize that much depends upon restoring prosperity to the farmers."

The farmer bloc has never had more than 22 senators at its meetings, Senator Kenyon said. But it has worked together so effectively that it has forced measures for farm aid out into the senate, and once these measures were before the senate other senators have, perforce, joined in their support. Its power was demonstrated in the session before the adjournment for recess.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Woman in His House" No more sweeping or powerful exemplification of the divine force of mother love has ever been penned—and certainly never screened—as "The Woman in His House" the feature photoplay at New Park theatre today, offers.

Louis B. Mayer has produced what may be truthfully described as a starproof picture, for the caliber of screen acting, while distinctly ordinary, can be entirely forgotten in the theme developed with consummate skill and directed with rare and touching emotions. If only for the precocious and talented child performer that has yet appeared before the camera "The Woman in His House" is worth seeing twice, for the full force of his gifted performance can hardly be appreciated at one sitting.

Mildred Harris is the featured player in a compelling screen tale. It tells of the loving wife and the too busy husband, a great physician. Caring for the paralytic children of the poor, the husband is unaware of the affliction preparing to devastate his own child and when the boy succumbs to the plague he is powerless to work a cure. His science proven a failure it remains for the wife and mother to straighten out the crooked limbs and restore vitality to the wasted body by the exercise of her overpowering love.

In some respects the story resembles "The Miracle Man" but it registers as more convincing and moving from the power of its treatment than did the earlier screen masterpiece. Irene Reels is credited with the authorship of the story. If that be a pseudonym then Irene had best emerge from her modest concealment, for the silver screen sheet needs more stories of this kind, written by a genius with true penchant for film drama.

Mildred Harris is fortunate to have appeared in such a story. She was never more emotionally sure, more human or appealing than in "The Woman in His House." The production can readily be ranked with the few great pictures of the film world.

Shirley Mason at Lyceum Tonight The dainty Fox star, Shirley Mason, appears at the Lyceum theatre tonight and Thursday in "Ever Since Eve," a comedy-romance which permits her to flash her abundant charm in a role which is ideal for the expression of her personality. Miss Mason is truly a daughter of Eve in this delightful photo-play which introduces her as an orphan of France who comes to America to live with her guardian, Carteret, an artist. Celestine presents such charm and personality that she is popularly received everywhere.

Her suitors are quite plentiful. The girl is capricious and causes her "father" much alarm. He discovers that she is meeting a young admirer clandestinely. Having lost his heart to her he is chagrined to think that she encourages other romances. He locks her in her room but she makes her escape! Carteret starts in pursuit and discovers that she is a sister of the real orphan, the girl having used deception because of her belief that he might not look with favor upon the engagement of the ward. The picture carries interesting episodes and is capably acted and directed.

The added attractions are Al St. John, the popular Wm. Fox comedian, in "Small Town Stuff," a rural comedy feature, and a news weekly.

Personal Charm. Unselfishness is one of the keys to personal charm, which means good manners. The woman who would be a successful woman, a woman of charm, must be an unselfish woman. She must be unselfish in her own interests. She must repress natural instincts to be bad-tempered when she is tired, to retort sharply when contradicted on her own particular subjects. She must listen when she wants to talk, and she must never for one moment be off her guard in the world.—Exchange.

AUTOMOBILE FREE: As a special prize for the best effort shown in the game, we will allow the participant having the best list of "S-words" of the first three prize winners (if fully qualified with two subscriptions) the choice of $1,000 cash, or new 1922 AUBURN BEAUTY SIX TOURING CAR, value $1,850.

OBSERVE THESE RULES

1. Any man, woman, girl, or boy, residing outside of St. Paul and Minneapolis, who is not an employee of The Dispatch, Printing Company, or a member of an employee's family, may submit an answer. It costs nothing to try it.
2. All answers must be mailed by October 22, 1921.
3. Answers should be written on one side of the paper only and words numbered consecutively: 1, 2, 3, etc. Write your full name and address on each page. In the upper right hand corner, if you desire to write anything else, use a separate sheet.
4. Only words found in the English Dictionary will be counted. Do not use hyphenated, compound or obsolete words. Use either the singular or plural, but where the plural is used, the singular can not be counted and vice versa.
5. Words of the same spelling can be used only once, even though used to designate different objects. The same object can be named only once; however, any part of the object may also be named.
6. The answer having the largest and nearest correct list of names of visible objects shown in the picture that begin with the letter "S," will be awarded first prize, etc. Neatness, style, or handwriting have no bearing upon deciding the winners.
7. Candidates may cooperate in answering the puzzle, but only one prize will be awarded to any one household; nor will prizes be awarded to more than one of any group outside of the family, where two or more have been working together.
8. In the event of a tie for any prize offered, the full amount of such prize will be paid to each participant.
9. All answers will receive the same consideration, regardless of whether or not a subscription for The St. Paul Dispatch or Pioneer Press is sent in.
10. There will be three independent judges, having no connection with The Dispatch or Pioneer Press, who will judge the answers submitted and award the prizes at the end of the puzzle game, and participants agree to accept the decision of the judges as final and conclusive.
11. The judges will meet on Wednesday, Nov. 2, 1921, and the announcement of the Prize Winners and correct list of words will be published in The Dispatch and Pioneer Press as quickly thereafter as possible.

AGRARIAN BLOC IN THE SENATE

NON-PARTISAN GROUP IN UPPER HOUSE IS HELPING RESTORE
PROSPERITY TO FARMERS.

KENYON IS THEIR CHAIRMAN

Senator From Iowa Tells How Agricultural Interests, Hardest Hit by the War, Are in Great Need of Legislative Aid.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.
Washington.—The American farmer is having his day in the legislative halls of the National capitol. Never before has the voice of the agriculturalist been so potent when it comes to lawmaking. Why?

Because a group of senators, without regard to party affiliations, who hail from agricultural states banded themselves together at the outset of the new congress for the purpose of "aiding the farmer." The farmer had been harder hit by the after-the-war readjustment of prices than any other group or class in the country.

This group got together—each senator intent upon doing the best for the farming element—and determined,
first, upon an organization or coalition, and, second, upon a program of farm legislation. William Squire Kenyon of Iowa was chosen chairman of the meetings of the agricultural group.

Senator Kenyon is one of the most modest men in congress. He invariably endeavors to put the soft pedal upon any publicity about himself, and when a correspondent went to him in search of an interview regarding the now famous "agrarian bloc" of the senate, the first injunction laid upon him by Senator Kenyon was that he should not be set down as the "head" of the organization.

Bloc Without a Head.

"A number of the senators, intent upon aiding the farmer, have organized this 'bloc' as it has come to be called," said Senator Kenyon. "We all of us have the interests of the agricultural class at heart—none more so than any one of the others."

"I noticed that one of the newspapers recently asked, 'Who is this agricultural blochead?' said the senator, with a twinkle in his eye. "As a matter of fact, the bloc has no head."

Long before the organization of the present bloc in the senate, Senator Kenyon was engaged actively in legislative work to help the farmers. He comes from one of the great farming states of the country, and one of his great pleasures is to get back home to the "farmers' picnic" where he can talk to the people and get their angle. He is a farm owner himself, though he says distinctly that he does not wish to pose as a farmer. He is a lawyer. But he lived on a farm when he was a boy, and worked on a farm.

"I remember that when I was fifteen years old I ran away from school to go to work on a farm," said Senator Kenyon. "The reason I ran away was that every Friday all the pupils were called on to recite poems, etc. I couldn't stand it. But I made up my mind that I would get over that feeling of nervousness when I addressed an audience, and later I returned to school, went through academy and then college. I joined all the debating societies I could just to force myself to learn to speak in public, for my earliest ambition was to become a lawyer. I determined that when I was thirteen years old."

Senator Kenyon's Career.

The Iowa senator is big, clean cut, hair gray, though abundant. He is fifty-two years old, but doesn't look it. He has been in the senate ten years, taking the seat of the late Senator Dolliver. Before he came to the senate he was an assistant attorney general under the Taft administration, having charge of the "trust busting" work of the department. Before that he was a district judge and a prosecuting attorney and a successful lawyer in his own state. He overcame his awe of speaking in public, but admits that up until a few years ago, he used to have qualms before beginning an address. He speaks forcefully and clearly, and comparatively rarely in the senate.

"What was the need of the farmer bloc?"

"That's a fair enough question," replied Senator Kenyon. "The farmers of the country were in desperate condition—they still are. They had suffered more acutely than any other body, due to the deflation after the war. They are the backbone of the country. They produce the food which the whole country must have. It was imperative that something be done for them."

"At first there was an inclination in some quarters to treat the farmer group lightly. But senators from the East now realize that much depends upon restoring prosperity to the farmers."

The farmer bloc has never had more than 22 senators at its meetings, Senator Kenyon said. But it has worked together so effectively that it has forced measures for farm aid out into the senate, and once these measures were before the senate other senators have, perforce, joined in their support. Its power was demonstrated in the session before the adjournment

AMUSEMENTS

"The Woman in His House"

No more sweeping or powerful exemplification of the divine force of mother love has ever been penned—and—certainly never screened—as
"The Woman in His House" the feature photoplay at New Park theatre today, offers.

Louis B. Mayer has produced what may be truthfully described as a starproof picture, for the caliber of screen acting, while distinctly ordinary, can be entirely forgotten in the theme developed with consummate skill and directed with rare and touching emotions. If only for the precocious and talented child performer that has yet appeared before the camera "The Woman in His House" is worth seeing twice, for the full force of his gifted performance can hardly be appreciated at one sitting.

Mildred Harris is the featured player in a compelling screen tale.
It tells of the loving wife and the too busy husband, a great physician.
Caring for the paralytic children of the poor, the husband is unaware of the affliction preparing to devastate his own child and when the boy succumbs to the plague he is powerless to work a cure. His science proven a failure it remains for the wife and mother to straighten out the crooked limbs and restore vitality to the wasted body by the exercise of her overpowering love.

In some respects the story resembles "The Miracle Man" but it registers as more convincing and moving from the power of its treatment than did the earlier screen masterpiece.
Irene Reels is credited with the authorship of the story. If that be a pseudonym then Irene had best emerge from her modest concealment, for the silver screen sheet needs more stories of this kind, written by a genius with true penchant for film drama.

Mildred Harris is fortunate to have appeared in such a story. She was never more emotionally sure, more human or appealing than in "The Woman in His House." The

Shirley Mason at Lyceum Tonight

The dainty Fox star, Shirley Mason, appears at the Lyceum theatre tonight and Thursday in "Ever Since Eve," a comedy-romance which permits her to flash her abundant charm in a role which is ideal for the expression of her personality. Miss Mason is truly a daughter of Eve in this delightful photo-play which introduces her as an orphan of France who comes to America to live with her guardian, Carteret, an artist. Celestine presents such charm and personality that she is popularly received everywhere.

Her suitors are quite plentiful. The girl is capricious and causes her "father" much alarm. He discovers that she is meeting a young admirer clandestinely. Having lost his heart to her he is chagrined to think that she encourages other romances. He locks her in her room but she makes her escape! Carteret starts in pursuit and discovers that she is a sister of the real orphan, the girl having used deception because of her belief that he might not look with favor upon the engagement of the ward. The picture carries interesting episodes and is capably acted and directed.

The added attractions are Al St.
John, the popular Wm. Fox comedian, in "Small Town Stuff," a rural comedy feature, and a news weekly.

Personal Charm.

Unselfishness is one of the keys to personal charm, which means good manners. The woman who would be a successful woman, a woman of charm, must be an unselfish woman.
She must be unselfish in her own interests. She must repress natural instincts to be bad-tempered when she is tired, to retort sharply when contradicted on her own particular subjects. She must listen when she wants to talk, and she must never for one moment be off her guard in the world.—Exchange.

Young and Old, Join in the Fun

The St. Paul Dispatch and Pioneer Press announces today a most interesting and amusing puzzle game—a puzzle that is different and a game in which all can participate—from the quietest child to grandfather and great-grandma.
It is really not a puzzle at all, for all the objects have been made perfectly plain, with no attempt to disguise or hide them. None are so small but that the poorest eyesight can see them; it is a test of skill. Your ability to find "S-words" determines the prize you win. Right after supper this evening, gather all the members of your family together; give each of them a pencil and a sheet of paper—and see who can find the most "S-words."
You'll be surprised to find how large a list of words you can get after a few minutes study. Sit down NOW and try it—then, send in your list and try for the big prizes.

You Can Win $1,000

The "S-Word" Picture Puzzle Game is a campaign to

E. G. Boyd and George Rardin, Special Officers and Officer Abrahamson Make Arrests

SOME MOONSHINE IS SEIZED

Men to be Brought Before U. S. Court Commissioner A. D. Polk and Arraigned

E. G. Boyd, special officer of the government just returned from the Indian reservations at Turtle Lake and Devils Mountain, N. D., where he did work for the government, made his presence known in Brainerd within 24 hours when two arrests were made charging men with having liquor in possession.

Officers Boyd, George Rardin and Police Officer Abrahamson figured in the exploit.

John Sigette of 1220 South Sixth street is charged with having liquor in his possession. The specific amount found, said Officer Boyd, was two quarts. Mr. Sigette promptly secured a lawyer for his defense, engaging M. E. Ryan.

Louis Lemire, who has a store at 1618 East Oak street, is charged with having liquor in his possession. The specific amount, alleges Officer Boyd, includes a quart found in a stove, three quarts found under the floor planks, and ten quarts buried out in the back yard. Mr. Lemire sent for W. W. Bane to defend him in the courts.

Short Services Held in Brainerd and Remains are Taken to Philadelphia for Burial

Mrs. Harold S. Clarke, who died at 1:30 a. m. October 4th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clarke was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Whitehouse of Philadelphia. Clarke, of this city, whom she met while he was in the Marine service during the great war. They were married April 22nd, 1920. Since that time they have made their home in Superior where Mr. Clarke is in the service of the Great Northern railway. Mrs. Clarke was brought here for an operation some weeks ago and an earnest fight for her life was waged but complications made it impossible for her to survive. She was a young woman of attractive personality and a winning spirit. She was patient in her suffering and brave in her death. Brief services were held at the home at ten o'clock Wednesday morning, Rev. E. A. Cooke of the First Methodist church officiating. RANGE WANTS RE-DISTRICTING

Trommald Times Presents Arguments of Crosby Commercial Club Special Committee

QUOTES THE STATE STATUTES

Population of Each Commissioners District Should be in the Neighborhood of 5,000

From statistics compiled by a special committee of the Crosby Commercial club it becomes apparent that this end of the county is entitled by law to a larger representation on the County Commission than it has been getting. The Minnesota Statutes provide in effect that each county shall be divided into five districts, as nearly equal in population as possible, each of which districts shall be represented by a commissioner, said five commissioners to comprise a board which shall govern county affairs. Should one of these districts at any time increase in population to such an extent that it contains thirty percent of the entire population of the county it becomes the duty of the county commissioners to re-district the county upon new lines.

The present county districts are as follows: No. 1 comprising the southern townships; No. 2 comprising western townships and ward 1 of Brainerd; Nos. 3 and 4, the city of Brainerd; and No. 5 the remaining extensive area from Brainerd north-eastward.

The 1920 census shows the entire population of the county to be 24,266. The population of each district should therefore be in the neighborhood of 5,000 people. Compiling the district populations from the 1920 figures for township and villages it was found that only one of our districts, No. 4 in the city of Brainerd with 4,872 is anywhere near this figure. One district has as low as 2709 population; whereas Dist. 5, represented by V. M. Syreen of Ironton, has a population of more than 10,000, or more than enough for two commissioners.

We have before us figures showing the exact population of each district, but owing to the lateness of the hour it is impossible to put them in type.

However, a survey of these figures will reveal the fact that, whereas when originally laid out the districts were about equal in population, there has been since a very marked increase in certain definite areas, particularly along the iron range, that causes the districting to fall far short of the spirit of the statute.

District No. 5, in which we are located, has a population of 10,093—nearly half that of the county, and yet is represented by only one commissioner. On the other hand, Brainerd with some 400 less souls gets two commissioners, and under the present sitting has practically three—District No. 2 being represented by a man residing in, or just outside of ward 1 of the city of Brainerd.

The County Commissioners will be petitioned at an early date to make a re-districting of the county which will give the residents of this end of the county a more equitable representation.

Toney Skall in Crosby Hospital With Two Small Bullet Wounds in His Legs

MARITAL TROUBLE IS AIDED

Authorities at Brainerd Deny that Blouchard Was Brought to Brainerd or Lodged in Jail

A Crosby marital tangle as revealed in a news dispatch to Twin City papers states:

Toney Skall is in the hospital here with two bullet wounds in his legs. John Blouchard, who shot Skall, called the sheriff at Brainerd and told him of the shooting. The sheriff took Blouchard to Brainerd for a hearing. Skall, who was divorced by his wife several weeks ago, is alleged to have gone to her home Sunday night and to have driven her and their children out of the house. They went to Blouchard's for shelter and Skall followed. He and Blouchard became involved in an argument, and the latter, a one-legged man, pulled a gun to frighten Skall. The latter rushed him and Blouchard shot him.

Authorities at Brainerd, on being quoted the above, stated Blouchard was not brought to Brainerd for a hearing.

TWO ARRESTS CHARGE POSSESSION OF LIQUOR

E. G. Boyd and George Rardin, Special Officers and Officer Abrahamson Make Arrests

SOME MOONSHINE IS SEIZED

Men to be Brought Before U. S. Court Commissioner A. D. Polk and Arraigned

E. G. Boyd, special officer of the government just returned from the Indian reservations at Turtle Lake and Devils Mountain, N. D., where he did work for the government, made his presence known in Brainerd within 24 hours when two arrests were made charging men with having liquor in possession.

Officers Boyd, George Rardin and Police Officer Abrahamson figured in the exploit.

John Sigette of 1220 South Sixth street is charged with having liquor in his possession. The specific amount found, said Officer Boyd, was two quarts. Mr. Sigette promptly secured a lawyer for his defense, engaging M. E. Ryan.

Louis Lemire, who has a store at 1618 East Oak street, is charged with having liquor in his possession. The specific amount, alleges Officer Boyd, includes a quart found in a stove, three quarts found under the floor planks, and ten quarts buried out in the back yard. Mr. Lemire sent for W. W. Bane to defend him in the courts.

MRS. HAROLD S. CLARKE

Short Services Held in Brainerd and Remains are Taken to Philadelphia for Burial

Mrs. Harold S. Clarke, who died at 1:30 a. m. October 4th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clarke was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Whitehouse of Philadelphia. Florence Whitehouse was born in Philadelphia March 20th, 1896 and there spent all her life until she married Harold S. Clarke, of this city, whom she met while he was in the Marine service during the great war. They were married April 22nd, 1920. Since that time they have made their home in Superior where Mr. Clarke is in the service of the Great Northern railway. Mrs. Clarke was brought here for an operation some weeks ago and an earnest fight for her life was waged but complications made it impossible for her to survive. She was a young woman of attractive personality and a winning spirit. She was patient in her suffering and brave in her death. Brief services were held at the home at ten o'clock Wednesday morning, Rev. E. A. Cooke of the First Methodist church officiating.

The remains were taken to Philadelphia Wednesday afternoon for burial accompanied by her husband. She leaves to mourn her loss, her husband, her father, three brothers and four sisters, all of whom are residing in the east.

Sympathy is extended to the bereaved relatives in their hour of trial.

RANGE WANTS RE-DISTRICTING

Trommald Times Presents Arguments of Crosby Commercial Club Special Committee

Population of Each Commissioners District Should be in the Neighborhood of 5,000

From statistics compiled by a special committee of the Crosby Commercial club it becomes apparent that this end of the county is entitled by law to a larger representation on the County Commission than it has been getting. The Minnesota Statutes provide in effect that each county shall be divided into five districts, as nearly equal in population as possible, each of which districts shall be represented by a commissioner, said five commissioners to comprise a board which shall govern county affairs. Should one of these districts at any time increase in population to such an extent that it contains thirty per cent of the entire population of the county it becomes the duty of the county commissioners to re-district the county upon new lines.

The present county districts are as follows: No. 1 comprising the southern townships; No. 2 comprising western townships and ward 1 of Brainerd; Nos. 3 and 4, the city of Brainerd; and No. 5 the remaining extensive area from Brainerd northward.

The 1920 census shows the entire population of the county to be 24,366. The population of each district should therefore be in the neighborhood of 5,000 people. Compiling the district populations from the 1920 figures for township and villages it was found that only one of our districts, No. 4 in the city of Brainerd with 4,872 is anywhere near this figure. One district has as low as 2,709 population; whereas Dist. 5, represented by Wm. Syreen of Ironton, has a population of more than 10,000, or more than enough for two commissioners.

We have before us figures showing the exact population of each district, but owing to the lateness of the hour it is impossible to put them in type. However, a survey of these figures will reveal the fact that, whereas when originally laid out the districts were about equal in population, there has been since a very marked increase in certain definite areas, particularly along the iron range, that causes the districting to fall far short of the spirit of the statute.

District No. 5, in which we are located, has a population of 10,093—nearly half that of the county, and yet is represented by only one commissioner. On the other hand, Brainerd with some 400 less souls gets two commissioners, and under the present sitting has practically three—District No. 2 being represented by a man residing in, or just outside of ward 1 of the city of Brainerd.

The County Commissioners will be petitioned at an early date to make a re-districting of the county which will give the residents of this end of the county a more equitable representation.

HUSBAND SHOT BY WIFE'S PROTECTOR

Toney Skall in Crosby Hospital With Two Small Bullet Wounds in His Legs

MARITAL TROUBLE IS AIRED

Authorities at Brainerd Deny that Blouchard Was Brought to Brainerd or Lodged in Jail

A Crosby marital tangle as revealed in a news dispatch to Twin City papers states:

Toney Skall is in the hospital here with two bullet wounds in his legs. John Blouchard, who shot Skall, called the sheriff at Brainerd and told him of the shooting. The sheriff took Blouchard to Brainerd for a hearing. Skall, who was divorced by his wife several weeks ago, is alleged to have gone to her home Sunday night and to have driven her and their children out of the house. They went to Blouchard's for shelter and Skall followed. He and Blouchard became involved in an argument, and the latter, a one-legged man, pulled a gun to frighten Skall. The latter rushed him and Blouchard shot him.

Authorities at Brainerd, on being quoted the above, stated Blouchard was not brought to Brainerd for a hearing.

JAPAN SEES NO BAR TO ACCORD

OFFICIAL STATEMENT OF HER PRELIMINARY POSITION ON IMPORTANT MATTER.

WOULD AVOID ALL CONFLICT

Ready to Restore Kiaochau to China and to Evacuate Troops From Eastern Siberia as Soon as Satisfactory Arrangements Are Made.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—Washington's interest in the forthcoming disarmament and Far East conference is sharper concerning the attitude that Japan is likely to take than it is in the positions which any of the other conferring nations may assume.

It has been possible to obtain an authoritative specific statement of Japan's position as related to certain of the most perplexing problems that are to be discussed at the forthcoming meeting. It is perfectly apparent that the Japanese people are viewing the possible results of the meeting most seriously.

It probably may be well to know in advance how the Japanese feel on certain matters. What is here set down on the affairs touched upon is official, and it was secured by your correspondent exclusively. The quotations follow:

"The Japanese desire to avoid unfortunate situations, such as developed at the peace conference in Paris, where for one reason and another it was made to appear that the United States was pitted in diplomatic conflict with first one great power and then another, till, by the time the Versailles treaty was finally agreed upon, practically all the powers were discredited in America.

"The Tokyo government now seeks to avoid, if possible, even the appearance of conflict between American interests and policies. In the opinion of most Japanese statesmen there is no issue that should not and could not be settled, both amicably and speedily, and they on their part are willing to go more than half way to reach any compromise and agreement.

Japan's Position on Shantung.
"The three most important matters are the status of Yap, the concessions in Shantung, and the presence of Japanese troops in eastern Siberia. The most difficult of these problems seems to be that of the concessions in Shantung. The present situation in Shantung was fixed by the Versailles treaty. By that treaty Germany renounces in favor of Japan the lease of Kiaochau and those of her rights that respect the railway from the port of Tsingtao, in Kiaochau bay to Tsinanfu.

"To maintain order and security in Kiaochau and also to protect the Tsinanfu-Tsingtao railway from lawless elements that infest the regions the Japanese have maintained up to the present military guards of not more than 2,000 men in Tsinanfu and along the railway.

"Japan has, however, repeatedly declared her readiness to return Kiaochau in full sovereignty to China, to withdraw all her troops now stationed in Tsinanfu and in the railway zone, and to make that railway an effective joint China-Japanese undertaking. It is obviously impossible for Japan to give effect to that declaration until arrangements shall have been made between Japan and China."

Then this official statement which I have secured goes on to say that China's attitude has been hesitant, although Japan has more than once invited China to enter into the negotiations.

Why They Keep Troops in Siberia.
The official pronouncement then takes up the Eastern Siberia question as follows:

"With regard to Eastern Siberia, Japanese interests and Japanese subjects, established in that sparsely settled region as a result of treaty rights accorded by the former Russian government, have been given little or no protection since the rise of the Bolshevik regime. Many Japanese have suffered not only personal hardship and pecuniary losses, but actual assault and even massacre. Nevertheless, out of the three provinces of Eastern Siberia, where Japanese troops originally were stationed, two provinces already have been completely evacuated.

"It is only in the southern frontier region of the maritime province, including Vladivostok, that these troops still are maintained. Yet it is the intention of Japan to withdraw her troops from this region also as soon as adequate provision is made for the protection of lives and property of Japanese residents and for the defense of the border of Korea."

Then the official statement takes up Yap as follows:

"As to Yap, the question is actually under discussion between the American and Japanese governments, and there is every indication of an early settlement of the controversy satisfactory to all parties alike.

"Japan has nothing to lose by a policy of conciliation toward China, and is anxious, therefore, to reach with the United States, Great Britain and other interested powers the fullest and quickest accord that will determine and settle the status of the various foreign nations which have interests in that troubled country."

New York, Oct. 5.—Opening day for the world's series dawned fair and cool. A brief shower before daybreak was followed by clearer weather and when the sun arose the sky was practically cloudless. There was a tang of autumn in the air but this was rapidly

Warmer weather for tomorrow's game was promised.

JAPAN SEES NO BAR TO ACCORD

WOULD AVOID ALL CONFLICT

Ready to Restore Kiaochau to China and to Evacuate Troops From Eastern Siberia as Soon as Satisfactory Arrangements Are Made.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.
Washington.—Washington's interest in the forthcoming disarmament and Far East conference is sharper concerning the attitude that Japan is likely to take than it is in the positions which any of the other conferring nations may assume.

It has been possible to obtain an authoritative specific statement of Japan's position as related to certain of the most perplexing problems that are to be discussed at the forthcoming meeting. It is perfectly apparent that the Japanese people are viewing the possible results of the meeting most seriously.

It probably may be well to know in advance how the Japanese feel on certain matters. What is here set down on the affairs touched upon is official, and it was secured by your correspondent exclusively. The quotations follow:

"The Japanese desire to avoid unfortunate situations, such as developed at the peace conference in Paris, where for one reason and another it was made to appear that the United States was pitted in diplomatic conflict with first one great power and then another, till, by the time the Versailles treaty was finally agreed upon, practically all the powers were discredited in America.

"The Tokyo government now seeks to avoid, if possible, even the appearance of conflict between American interests and policies and Japanese interests and policies. In the opinion of most Japanese statesmen there is no issue that should not and could not be settled, both amicably and speedily, and they on their part are willing to go more than half way to reach any compromise and agreement.

Japan's Position on Shantung.
"The three most important matters are the status of Yap, the concessions in Shantung, and the presence of Japanese troops in eastern Siberia. The most difficult of these problems seems to be that of the concessions in Shantung. The present situation in Shantung was fixed by the Versailles treaty. By that treaty Germany renounces in favor of Japan the lease of Kiaochau and those of her rights that respect the railway from the port of Tsin-tao, in Kiaochau bay to Tsinanfu.

"To maintain order and security in Kiaochau and also to protect the Tsin-tao-Tsinanfu railway from lawless elements that infest the regions the Japanese have maintained up to the present military guards of not more than 2,000 men in Tsin-tao and along the railway.

"Japan has, however, repeatedly declared her readiness to return Kiaochau in full sovereignty to China, to withdraw all her troops now stationed in Tsin-tao and in the railway zone, and to make that railway an effective joint China-Japanese undertaking. It is obviously impossible for Japan to give effect to that declaration until arrangements shall have been made between Japan and China."

Then this official statement which I have secured goes on to say that China's attitude has been hesitant, although Japan has more than once invited China to enter into the negotiations.

Why They Keep Troops in Siberia.
The official pronouncement then takes up the Eastern Siberia question as follows:

"With regard to Eastern Siberia, Japanese interests and Japanese subjects, established in that sparsely settled region as a result of treaty rights accorded by the former Russian government, have been given little or no protection since the rise of the Bolshevik regime. Many Japanese have suffered not only personal hardship and pecuniary losses, but actual assault and even massacre. Nevertheless, out of the three provinces of Eastern Siberia, where Japanese troops originally were stationed, two provinces already have been completely evacuated.

"It is only in the southern frontier region of the maritime province, including Vladivostok, that these troops still are maintained. Yet it is the intention of Japan to withdraw her troops from this region also as soon as adequate provision is made for the protection of lives and property of Japanese residents and for the defense of the border of Korea."

Then the official statement takes up Yap as follows:
"As to Yap, the question is actually under discussion between the American and Japanese governments, and there is every indication of an early settlement of the controversy satisfactorily to all parties alike.

"Japan has nothing to lose by a policy of conciliation toward China, and is anxious, therefore, to reach with the United States, Great Britain and other interested powers the fullest and quickest accord that will determine and settle the status of the various foreign nations which have interests in that troubled country."

Fire Prevention Day

St. Paul, Oct. 5.—Fire Prevention Day, next Sunday, should mark increased efforts on the part of the public against the forest fire menace in Minnesota, State Forester Cox said today.

Next Sunday is the fiftieth anniversary of the great Chicago fire, now observed as Fire Prevention Day.

War Risk Bureau Moves

Fergus Falls, Minn., Oct. 5.—The War Risk Insurance Bureau opened headquarters here today to handle claims of service men from Clay, Becker, Wilkin, and Ottertail counties. The office will be open until tomorrow night when it will move to St. Cloud.

TAKE TIME TO CONSIDER

Coach Bezek of Penn State thinks no football rule should be changed without having a year's consideration. Most football coaches are not so hot up over the kick for goal after touchdown as some critics of the country appear to be. As Bezek says: "We can always develop somebody to kick the goals."

YANKS WIN FIRST GAME OF WORLD'S SERIES

met a good business. Liquor was said to have been sold by the jug and by the pint. Prices were not exorbitant. For $8 you could get a perfectly good pint of synthetic gin right from Holland street.

Fair Weather For First Game

New York, Oct. 5.—Opening day for the world's series dawned fair and cool. A brief shower before daybreak was followed by clearer weather and when the sun arose the sky was practically cloudless. There was a tang of autumn in the air but this was rapidly dispersed by sunshine. There was a moderate northwest wind.

Fair Weather Predicted

Washington, Oct. 5.—Fair weather for the world's series games today and tomorrow was predicted by the U. S. weather bureau.

Warmer weather for tomorrow's game was promised.

Leader Feels His Power Gone

In full health a stag is always proud of his ability as leader and champion, and waves his gleaming flag incessantly, signaling to his family that way. Hit him with a bullet, and down goes his flag instantly. He will save himself if he can. But he does not wave on the others to follow him. Scatter and save yourselves, he would say.

SULPHUR CLEARS A PIMPLY SKIN

Apply Sulphur As Told When Your Skin Breaks Out

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickly by applying Menthosulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist.

Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Menthosulphur and use it like cold cream.
